THE DISCIPLINE OF ACTION.

Men who have been long in the habit of thinking for themselves, and who are not easily led away by the opinions of others, are apt to be slow in coming to a conclusion upon any new question that may be presented to them for consideration. They are apt to be cautious and deliberate in their movements, and to require a good deal of evidence before they will be induced to change their opinions, or to adopt any new theory. They are apt to be conservative in their habits of thought, and to be somewhat skeptical in regard to the value of any new ideas that may be presented to them. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is true, which is contrary to their own experience, or to the experience of those around them. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is false, which has been long established, and which is generally believed to be true. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is right, which is generally believed to be wrong, and that any thing is wrong, which is generally believed to be right. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is practicable, which has never been attempted, and that any thing is impracticable, which has been frequently attempted and failed in. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is possible, which has never been done, and that any thing is impossible, which has been frequently done. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is true, which is contrary to the opinions of the majority, and that any thing is false, which is generally believed to be true. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is right, which is contrary to the practice of the majority, and that any thing is wrong, which is generally practiced. They are apt to be slow to believe that any thing is practicable, which is contrary to the practice of the majority, and that any thing is impracticable, which is generally practiced

LOCAL MATTERS.

Brought on by appeals made by the Friends of Temperance at a late meeting of the West Chicago Temperance Union, a number of gentlemen have left their homes with the license of the paper, who hold themselves ready to prosecute the Prohibitory Liquor Law when called upon so to proceed the services of others?). If appointed, they intend one whole all be possible by addressing the Editor, at his Office.

CIRCUIT SUPREME COURT AT A.

P. Grannis Adams, at his Booking office, No. 64 Clark street. Is receiving to-day all orders of all the respectable Banks of this state except those of the State of Rockford.

Personal.

Mr. Coe, the banker of New York still Hotel Sherry Day, one of the leading members of the New York Bar, for stopping at the Tremont House on account of the West.

The Gardner case was on yesterday. One of Chicago will be with Mr. Lobdell. The First Presbyterian Church, the oldest in the city, will be in the right. The Rev. Murray Cobb is the pastor.

Orders for extra copies of the paper may be left at the counting room to-day.

The Prisoner Bail.

Mr. Gardner, the prisoner, was brought down to the City Hall yesterday morning and was examined as to his means and sufficiency of bail. Messrs. Hall & Gurney came forward as his sureties, each in the sum of $5,000, which was accepted and approved by the Recorder. Mr. Gardner was then released from custody.

The Fortune Bank.

ALLEGED CONTEMPT OF COURT.

The case of the People of the State of Illinois vs. Horace F. Waite, committed to prison by Recorder Reed, E. Wilson, Esq. as counsel, commenced at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, before the Circuit Court. The Hon. E. S. Prentiss, Judge, on a writ of habeas corpus, came up for hearing on the following morning. The facts of this case, as set forth in the following papers in the case:

No. 1. Petition of Horace F. Waite to Judge Skinner or the County Court, for writ of Habeas Corpus. Setting forth that he is unlawfully imprisoned and restrained of his liberty by the Sheriff; that he is an attorney-at-law, licensed to practice in all the courts within the county; that on such attorney, he was on the 5th day of April, 1855, engaged in the trial of a certain case in the Recorder's Court, of the city of Chicago, and that in the course of the trial of said case, after all the evidence in the case had been heard, the petitioner, being counsel for the defendant, proceeded to address the Jury, and after having spoken one minute on the subject argued by the Recorder that petitioner had five minutes and expired, and that he was debarred from addressing the jury any further. To which the petitioner replied that he had not addressed the jury more than one minute, and that the Recorder, notwithstanding, refused the petitioner, in a peremptory manner, to do more. That the petitioner was insulted in his right to address the jury, and that the Recorder refused to hear
